HOW CAN A LOCKSMITH ENHANCE THE SECURITY OF YOUR CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS?

Shain and his team understand that installing or increasing security in your construction projects is an extremely important, if not, the most important responsibility when upholding new construction projects.

Installing new locksmith systems

With the many diverse projects you no doubt have under your company's belt, it's important to hire a locksmith who can provide every service you need installed. Many of our current clients use a range of our services when installing new security systems into projects.

Master-keys

When it comes to security, it always comes down to keys. How many keys do you need? Can many of these keys be used as a master-key system?

A master key system is a hierarchy of keys which allow different groups or individuals to gain access to specifically designated areas of one or more buildings. Simply put, a master keyed lock is designed to be opened by individual keys as well as the master key.

Security screens

Did you know if your security screens aren't up to Australian standards, they may as well be left open? Ensure they're fitted professionally.

We offer a range of security screens for windows, doors and outdoor enclosures such as patios and pools.

Door locks

Obviously, your project will need door locks. For your convenience, we supply, install and repair door locks. Whether you need front and back door locks, or locks on the interior doors, we have locks to ensure they're in line with insurance companies.

Window locks

These days, burglars aren't only accessing premises through the door; many are gaining access through windows meaning we need to ensure we have suitable locks on each and every window. Therefore, we supply, install and repair any window locks.

Safe installation

Many of our construction clients have been adding secure safes to enhance the security within their projects. This can add to the value and peace of mind for many buyers as they can protect belongings from thieves and fire damage. We offer a range of safes and will install them for you as well.
